She graduated as telecommunication engineer and got her PhD at UPV/EHU. Nowadays she works as Senior Professor teaching classes related with telecommunication engineering and language technology.

She has taken part in more than 50 research projects funded by public and private institutions. She has actively contributed to the development of speech analysis and synthesis technologies, especially to the study of prosody and enhancement of expressiveness and naturalness in synthetic speech. She also works in speaker recognition and diarization and emotion recognition, applying her knowledge about prosody to them.
